Description

Pair of opalescent Murano vases in red blown glass and gold inclusion in the taste of Barovier. What if you invited the beauty of red and opalescent blown glass to your home with gold inlays from Murano's glassmakers? Born in Italy in the 1960s, this pair of vases is exceptional! She embodies with virtuosity all the poetry of post-war Italian glass craftsmanship, between the Mid-Century Modern style and the organic Venetian style. The ruby red of the body of these vases is magnified by the gold dust that covers it in an organized way. Ribbed, the red body, similar to that of a human heart is supported and mounted by an opalescent glass crown.. It is a true masterpiece of Italian glassware, both beautiful and curious, with each element blending in perfect harmony, offering this baroque visual
