Description

Oil on canvas depicting a port scene on Île Saint-Denis near Paris, France. This painting was created by Raymond Besse (1899-1969), a French artist known for his urban and port landscapes. The work represents a scene on Île Saint-Denis, with industrial buildings, boats, and an atmosphere characteristic of the early 20th century. Raymond Besse's works are prized for their atmospheric depictions of French urban landscapes and port scenes. These paintings are particularly sought after by collectors of 20th-century French art and enthusiasts of late Impressionist paintings who value authentic representations of industrial Paris and its surroundings.
