Description

Rare 1940s Hermès handbag in reddish-brown leather with two handles opening to a red Hermès leather interior. The interior features two gussets with a central pocket secured by a gold-tone metal clasp. Inside this pocket is a coin purse that opens into two sections, one with a central divider. Note that this divider between the white and red leather sections is unstitched (see last photo). There is also a small slip pocket inside the central section, under the gold-tone "Hermès Paris 24 Fg St Honoré" mark, which is slightly worn. Carried by the two handles. Lovely patina, with a few minor scratches, but in very good used condition, no stains. Shipping via Colissimo registered mail with insurance within France and via Colissimo International for other countries. You can follow the shop on Instagram:
