Description

Openwork Louis XVI style basket in fine Toul earthenware, dated 1884 (lib). With the letters AT in interlocking capitals, for the Toul workshops. Also noteworthy is the small, naked child figure on the side of the basket, painting the letters AT for the Toul workshops on a canvas mounted on an easel... Amusing... A creation by Jules Aubry in the 19th century, in the Louis XVI style. A beautiful centerpiece, with a painted bouquet of flowers in the center. Lovely, vibrant colors. However, it has a few small chips at the corners and the piece rings slightly with a crack... Nevertheless, it is perfectly solid and remains a very high-quality and rare piece. Diameters 22 and 31 cm. Height approximately 19 cm. Fast and well-protected shipping. Worldwide shipping.
