Description

Interesting coat rack with a 1970s design. I don't remember the designer's name, but it's a very well-known model. It's composed of six sleek, racket-like stainless steel branches. These branches converge into a central trunk resting on a black lacquered metal base. This base appears to be black powder-coated metal. The overall design is well-balanced and harmonious.

Extremely practical and 70s in style. There are a few small, barely visible dents on the base. A beautiful coat rack with an unusual shape.

Dimensions: 30 cm diameter at the base, 180 cm high. We deliver and ship worldwide; please contact us for a precise quote.
