Description

Charming antique portrait of a young woman in profile, oil on canvas, French school circa 1860-1890, signed A. Piard lower left. The composition is inspired by late 19th-century historicist models, with a dark background contrasting the light face, the updo adorned with pearls, and a green cabochon pendant emphasizing the sitter's delicate appearance. Portrait format, canvas 40.5 x 32.5 cm, frame 52 x 44 cm, 5.5 cm thick. In good condition for its age, however, the canvas shows a network of natural craquelure. A mark is visible in the upper part of the head. Recently varnished, glossy finish. The original wood and gilt stucco frame has been repaired, repainted, and reinforced--a clean, handcrafted piece. Approximately 1.6 kg.
