Description

A rare and striking piece, this hybrid chair, a cross between a chair and a small table, blends postmodern and Louis-Philippe rustic design. Named "Cadregabec" by its creators Urs Kamber and Susann Gumpel, it was produced in 1989 by the Swiss company Svitalia. It features a tripod base with a long seat in light beech and a backrest in dark beech. The chair can be used as a table while seated. It is in good condition, though there are some minor wear and scratches on the backrest and two small scuffs on the seat.
