Description

Mottled Mahogany Sideboard - 19th Century.
This elegant mottled mahogany sideboard, dating from the 19th century, displays a beautiful, warm patina and particularly decorative grain. The lower section, enclosed by two doors, reveals ample storage space, surmounted by two drawers in the frieze. The upper section is an open sideboard, framed by scrolled, carved uprights and topped with a richly molded and carved pediment, typical of furniture from the second half of the 19th century. The piece presents an elegant and balanced silhouette, both decorative and functional. The carefully selected mottled mahogany reveals a deep and nuanced grain, enhanced by a meticulous finish. A robust, stable, and perfectly usable piece, ideal for a dining room, living room, or library. Wood: Mottled
