Description

Exceptional Bohemian liqueur service in amber blown glass, with polychrome enamelled decor and turquoise applied snake with white spots. Northern Bohemia circa 1855-1865, attributed to Harrach. The set comprises one decanter and six matching liqueur glasses. The decanter and glasses all have applied decor of a serpent in turquoise glass white dotted lines coiled around each piece. Period: mid-19th century Origin: Northern Bohemia (Harrach workshop or Harrach influence). No marks : Harrach did not sign at this time. High-quality amber glass with hand-painted floral decoration. Excellent condition, with no visible cracks or chips (slight wear on the stopper, perfectly consistent with the age of the piece). Complete and matching set; rare to find together. Decanter height: 26 cm.
