Description

A very beautiful, large antique oil painting on canvas depicting pink peonies in bloom and bud in a delicate, naturalistic style reminiscent of botanical illustration. Signed lower right E. Jacque, French work, late 19th/early 20th century. The canvas is presented in its original black and gold wood and stucco frame, fully restored, consolidated, repainted, and varnished; the reliefs still show some stabilized craquelure that adds character to the whole. Frame: 64 x 40.5 x 3 cm; canvas: approximately 55 x 33 cm. Very good overall condition. The antique black wood and stucco frame with gilt decoration has been completely restored: the external moldings have been remade by hand and are slightly visible, but the overall appearance is clean and complete. It has been repainted and varnished, and the stucco
