Description

This exceptional work, created around 1950, is an ode to poetry and grace. Standing 23.5 cm tall, it is sculpted from natural agate, its veins and nuances masterfully exploited. The piece depicts celestial fairies floating lightly amidst wispy clouds and ancient pines, symbols of eternity. The drapery and the delicate ribbons illustrate a high level of craftsmanship, typical of the mid-20th century. The translucent brilliance of the stone, oscillating between amber tones and earthy depths, brings these mythical figures to life in a fluid movement, frozen for eternity. Resting on its finely carved wooden base, this gemstone sculpture is a masterpiece of balance, combining the nobility of the mineral with the delicacy of an imaginary and sacred world.
