Description

This Longwy glazed earthenware bowl is distinguished by its rich polychrome decoration of stylized flowers and birds, set against a deep blue background characteristic of the factory's production. The central basin features a lively scene of birds surrounded by floral motifs, framed by a wide rim adorned with vegetal scrolls finely outlined in black, using the traditional cloisonné enamel technique of Longwy. The reverse bears the Lorraine cross mark, used by the factory from 1920 onwards, attesting to its 20th-century production. The piece is captivating in its balanced composition, vibrant colors, and high-quality glazing, showcasing the decorative expertise of Longwy. A beautiful decorative object, emblematic of French ceramic art, it can be displayed either as a wall hanging or
