Description

A very beautiful Louis XIII clock in oak with giltwood decoration. The dial is very finely chased (see photos) in two qualities of metal: gilt and silver. The ornaments are in giltwood with original gilding and are in very good condition. The four capitals and the four feet are in gilt bronze. The case is oak and everything is in its original condition; we have not cleaned anything to preserve its quality, as it was certainly kept under glass for a long time. The ornaments and the movement function perfectly. Everything is in original condition. A very decorative and functional clock.
