350 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Terracotta

Width : 54

Height : 33

Depth : 43

Description

A Medici-shaped vase in molded terracotta, resting on a square pedestal. The body is decorated with vertical fluting and two lateral mascarons with stylized heads. The handles are integrated into the body of the vase and finished in relief. The surface has an old green patina, intentionally applied to imitate the appearance of bronze. The interior shows traces of turning and wear consistent with old use. There is a raised mark representing an architectural motif of a castle type, likely a workshop or mold mark. A small old chip is visible on one corner of the base, consistent with the use and age of the vase. No structural defects. Dimensions: W 54 x H 33 x D 43 cm / 10 kg
