Description

- Twelve-Light Dutch Bronze Chandelier - Important Dutch bronze chandelier, a high-quality antique piece, richly decorated with scrolls and volutes characteristic of Northern European production. It features twelve light arms arranged on two levels, each ending in a candle holder with a bobèche, offering a striking decorative presence and generous illumination. The central shaft, elegantly balustered and punctuated with spheres, is assembled using a traditional wedge joint, attesting to authentic and robust craftsmanship. The bronze patina is uniform and warm, highlighting the relief and the finesse of the decoration. Functional wiring (to be adapted if necessary according to current standards). A chandelier of character, both decorative and architectural, ideal for a living
