Description

Art Deco period side table/floor lamp. The modernity of the design lies in its asymmetrical openwork niches. The tubular floor lamp features a chrome shade that blends beautifully with the tubular shape. It offers two distinct lighting options (one upwards and two to the sides). The faux leather-style lampshade adds further contrast. The entire piece rests on four simple, small ball feet. This piece combines a rare and attractive dual functionality. Delivery is available but not included in the price.
