Description

A striking black leather armchair produced by B&B Italia and designed by Tobia Scarpa, a major figure in 20th-century Italian design. This model is distinguished by its generous proportions, deep seat, and thick leather with an authentic patina, emblematic of Italian production in the 1970s. The understated, architectural design, combined with remarkable comfort, makes it a piece that is both functional and sculptural. The leather shows signs of wear and a uniform patina, consistent with the age of the armchair, without altering its structure or elegance. An iconic piece, rare on the market, ideal for a contemporary, brutalist, or mid-century interior.
