Description

An elegant pair of silvered bronze candelabra in the Louis XV style, distinguished by their rich rocaille ornamentation and finely chiselled decoration. Each candelabrum features six gracefully scrolling arms decorated with foliage and sculpted motifs typical of the Louis XV aesthetic. The candelabra rest on well-worked bases, providing excellent stability and a strong decorative presence. The silvered surface shows a beautiful, even patina that enhances the depth of the decoration and highlights the quality of the bronze craftsmanship. All drip pans are present, which is an important detail for this type of piece. Thanks to their generous proportions and substantial weight, these candelabra work equally well in a classic interior or as a statement piece in a more contemporary setting. Details:- Style:
