Description

This lovely antique painting, a true testament to 17th-century art, will captivate lovers of history and timeless beauty. The oil painting on copper, a rare and prized technique, lends this work exceptional luminosity and depth, characteristic of the masters of that era. The subject of this composition is as fascinating as it is enigmatic: a face in relief, almost sculptural, seems to emerge from the shadows, surrounded by mysterious symbols. A delicately painted hand, holding an ancient book, perhaps evoking wisdom or knowledge, is clearly visible. Beside it, a branch of dried plants, with finely detailed leaves, adds a touch of nature and fragility, while a withered flower recalls the fleeting nature of time. The regilded wooden frame, adorned with Baroque motifs, adds a touch of opulence and refinement
