Description

Rare and important Lunéville faience dinner service, produced by the prestigious French manufactory, dating to the early 20th century. The service is distinguished by a refined polychrome floral decoration, delicately painted, and by elegantly shaped and contoured forms, characteristic of the period. The quality of the faience and the elegance of the decoration make this set of particular decorative and collectible interest.

Service composition (total 128 pieces):

- 11 soup cups with 12 saucers
- 5 serving dishes
- 2 oval bowls
- 1 sauce boat
- 3 compotes
- 12 crescent-shaped plates

15 soup plates

50 dinner plates

The service is in very good overall condition, with minor signs of age and use consistent with its period, and no significant breaks; any small imperfections should be considered normal for an antique service over a century old.

A service of great charm, ideal for collectors of French ceramics, for formal table settings, or as a prestigious decorative element for classic and elegant interiors.
