Description

Refinement and ingenuity combine in this Louis XVI style salon table crafted from rosewood and mahogany marquetry. The folding top, upholstered in new leather with a gilt vignette, unfolds to form an elegant game table, while the tabletop features a diamond-shaped marquetry centered by a medallion decorated with an eye-catching floral composition in stained wood. The apron opens to reveal a discreet drawer, adorned with two small brass pull knobs, and the lower niche provides additional storage space. The tapered legs, punctuated with brass feet, ensure a slender and stable silhouette, emphasizing the classic character of the piece. A decorative and functional item, ideal for interiors where antique charm blends with contemporary style. Period: Early 20th Century.
