Description

18 K Gold (750/1000), Platinum, Old Cut Diamond and Rose Cut Diamonds Antique Dormeuses Daisy Earrings, circa 1900. A lovely pair of antique diamond earrings (dormeuses). These earrings, crafted in 18K rose gold and platinum, each feature a daisy motif set at the center with an old-cut diamond, surrounded by fine rose-cut diamonds of lovely quality, with a total diamond weight of approximately 1.10 carats, and topped by an additional smaller diamond. They are fitted with a traditional period clasp. The earrings sit perfectly, just below the earlobe. A fine example of craftsmanship from the late 19th century to the early 20th century. Original fitted case signed "Bouchet, jeweler in Clermont-Ferrand." Diamond details - Old cut Total weight. approx. 1,10 ct Valued
