Description

Beautiful color lithographed poster with a gold background on wove paper. Signed lower right within the image. Charles Hossein Zenderoudi was born in 1937 in Tehran. After completing his secondary education in the mid-1950s, he entered the Academy of Fine Arts in his hometown to study painting. His interest in Iranian-Islamic traditions and his knowledge of calligraphy gave him his unique style. In the late 1950s, he created the Saqqa-khaneh movement, a reaction against Western art and the clash between traditional and modern Iranian art. He left Iran in 1961 and settled in Paris.
