Description

A Louis XVI walnut commode with two drawers at the front, each with drop handles. The drawer fronts are decorated with brass moldings. It rests on four tapered, square-section legs. The front and rear uprights are fluted. This commode, dating from the late 18th century, is in very good condition, having been cleaned and refinished. Made from high-quality walnut. Please note: the key is missing, and there is an old repair to one rear leg. All email inquiries will receive a response; please check your spam folder.
