Description

Set of nine polychrome glazed ceramic tiles by the renowned French painter, tapestry designer, and ceramicist Jean Lurçat (1892-1966), recognized as one of the major artists of the 20th century! Based in the 1950s in his Sant Vicens studio in Perpignan, he contributed to the creation of works still visible today, such as "The Creation of the World" at the Maison de la Radio in Strasbourg and numerous tapestries held at the Gobelins Manufactory in Paris. Originally intended to decorate a coffee table, this set can now be incorporated as a decorative element in a renovation project or simply framed! A beautiful piece
