Description

This exceptional mirror, a silent witness to the elegance and craftsmanship of the 18th century, embodies the very essence of the French art of living. Its finely crafted, carved wooden frame is adorned with a scalloped design where each curve seems to dance with the light. The motifs, inspired by nature, blossom into delicate shells, blooming flowers, and lush foliage, reminiscent of the secret gardens of bygone châteaux. The original and remarkably well-preserved gilding lends this object a unique warmth and depth. It captures the golden reflections of candles, just as it did three centuries ago, transforming every glance into this mirror into a journey through time. The mercury glass, also I believe to be original, is in exceptional condition, offering a clarity and depth that defy the passage of time.
