Description

A rare and elegant lead hand mirror, attributed to Irena Jaworska, an artist and student of Line Vautrin, a major figure in 20th-century French decorative arts. This mirror is distinguished by its sculptural work in lead, enriched with decorative inlays, in a spirit that is both artistic and functional, faithful to the aesthetic inherited from Line Vautrin's workshop. The dense, patinated material gives the object a strong and refined presence, typical of the handcrafted creations of this period. An object at the crossroads of decorative art and sculpture, this hand mirror is equally suited to a collector or a lover of rare and poetic French design. Creator: Irena Jaworska (student of Line Vautrin) Style: French decorative art / sculptural design Origin: France Period: 20th century Material: Lead with inlays Mirror
