villages, produces what are undoubtedly the heaviest and most... "More durable than any other Persian rug." Heavy and thick, Bijar rugs are difficult to handle but incredibly robust. The velvet, fringes, and edges are in excellent condition. Our model features a classic pale blue hexagonal floral medallion design, also found on Senneh rugs. The field presents a highly elaborate, stylized floral pattern in fresh and luminous shades against a scarlet background. The finely knotted midnight blue borders are adorned with shades of apricot, old rose, almond green, and red. Kilim-style finish at both ends followed by fringes in excellent condition; the thick velvet is particularly soft, and the edges are impeccable. Note the soft, fresh colors of this rug, which harmonize perfectly with the floral design. A beautiful abash is visible along the length of the rug; this fading is considered a desirable characteristic in Persian rugs. A durable, high-quality rug whose colors make it suitable for any setting. What a place in a house! A very high-traffic rug. Reinforced bands sewn under the edges for protection.
