Description

Female Nude from Behind, French School, Late 19th Century, Oil on canvas, mounted on cardboard, 35 x 28 cm, Good condition (discreet, slight loss in the lower right corner visible in the photo), Sold framed, Price: 750 Euros. This oil on canvas is a remarkably modern nude study, capturing fleeting movement with a striking freedom of brushstroke. The work is firmly rooted in the Impressionist movement, where emotion and light take precedence over photographic precision. The model is depicted from behind, in a dynamic and natural pose. The inclination of the body and the raised arm create a line of force that traverses the canvas, conveying a sense of life and immediacy. The artist employs vigorous and visible brushstrokes. This almost abstract treatment of the background highlights the model's delicate complexion. The flesh tones are rendered with subtlety, blending pearly whites with earthy shadows. The contrast with the deep greens and browns of the background suggests an outdoor scene. A rare piece that illustrates the mastery of the female nude and the technical freedom of late 19th-century artists. A work that is both intimate and powerful.
