Description

A Masterpiece of History and Academism:
Napoleon's Legacy If you are looking for a piece that combines the charm of imperial history with the technical perfection of French academic drawing, this work represents an unmissable opportunity. We offer a refined charcoal drawing on paper from 1909, depicting the royal death mask of Napoleon Bonaparte. This "étude de bosse" is not a simple exercise, but a tangible testimony to the educational excellence of a prominent student of the École des Beaux-Arts in Paris. Initialed "C.P." and dated, the drawing comes directly from an important Parisian residence, carrying with it an aura of authentic nobility and artistic rigor. Measuring 50x40 cm, the work captures the solemnity of the Emperor's face with extraordinary mastery, offering a
