Description

Louis XVI Mahogany Console Table, Circa 1780. Superb Louis XVI mahogany console table, resting on tapered legs ending in gilt bronze sabots. This console, opening with a wide drawer in the frieze, is topped with a white marble slab veined with gray, surrounded by an openwork gilt brass gallery. Its tapered uprights with fluted edges are joined by a stretcher shelf. Beautiful gilt bronze and chased ornamentation includes sabots, gallery, drawer pulls, keyhole escutcheons, drawer frames, stretcher, and panels. Beautiful wood with a lovely patina. A piece of finely crafted furniture with clean and refined lines. Combining practical utility with ample storage space, this console table also offers a place to display your art and decorative objects. But it also presents a very attractive visual appeal.
