

Art Deco Brooch In White Gold, Platinum, Half-cut Diamonds And Baguette Diamonds, Circa 1930

2 800 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Platinum

Description

An elegant Art Deco brooch crafted around 1930 in white gold and platinum. Its geometric and perfectly balanced design delicately illustrates the iconic aesthetic of Art Deco, combining clean lines with sophisticated volumes. The setting is adorned with half-cut diamonds totaling approximately 2.20 carats, complemented by baguette-cut diamonds totaling approximately 1.20 carats, adding rhythm, brilliance, and contrast to the whole. A refined and structured piece, a testament to the jewelry-making expertise of the interwar period, both timeless and undeniably elegant.
