Description

An elegant three-piece Charles X period dinner service, hallmarked with the Minerva mark, crafted from finely chased silver and fine crystal with palmette motifs. Each piece features four claw feet supporting a pedestal base decorated with a frieze of palmettes, beaded and undulating at the base. The majestic handles are adorned with acanthus leaves, and the sugar bowl has a hinged lid with a pinecone finial. This high-quality Parisian silversmith's work, preserved over time, is accompanied by its matching serving spoons. The meticulously worked crystal, the careful mounting, and the finely retouched chasing all contribute to making this a prestigious and decorative piece. Hallmarked with the Minerva mark, this beautiful set is sure to impress with its excellent condition.
