Description

A refined pair of armchairs, Louis XV style.The frame is made entirely of walnut and features a wraparound backrest that flows seamlessly into the padded armrests. The elegantly arched legs, finished with curled ends, are secured by an "X"-shaped connecting crosspiece with a turned central knob.The original petit point embroidered fabric upholstery forms the narrative heart of the piece; the backrests feature romantic scenes in an Arcadian style, with figures in period costume immersed in rural landscapes and architectural ruins, framed by polychrome floral borders. The upholstery is secured with burnished metal studs.Italy, 13th century.For further information or if you are interested, please contact us at +393282150796 (Gabriele Pintucci).
