

Louis XV Style Flat Desk, Rosewood Veneer And Rich Gilt Bronze Mounts, Late 19th Century

1 450 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Wood marquetry

Length : 160cm

Width : 83cm

Height : 82cm hauteur d'assise 60cm

Description

A Louis XV style flat desk, richly adorned with gilt bronze mounts, including female finials (espagnolettes) at the corners, bronze feet, and metal stringing. The lines are elegantly curved (undulating apron and cabriole legs), with three drawers in the front. The top is protected by a glass panel. The veneer (probably rosewood) and the quality of the bronze mounts suggest a late 19th - early 20th century manufacture, in the Louis XV style, reflecting the taste of Parisian productions during the Napoleon III period. An elegant Louis XV style flat desk resting on four cabriole legs terminating in gilt bronze sabots. The undulating frieze opens with three drawers in the front and features a metal stringing decoration highlighting the panels. The corners are adorned with superb bronze mounts depicting female

Dealer

GRFAntiquités

Généraliste

Mobile : 0628589727

1 rue des 2 ponts

Bacouel-sur-Selle 80460

figures in the style of espagnolettes, adding refinement and character to the whole. Beautiful veneer with warm grain, top protected by glass. French work from the late 19th century, in the spirit of the great Parisian cabinetmakers. Highly decorative, ideal as a desk or side table in a classic or eclectic interior. An elegant Louis XV style flat desk resting on four cabriole legs terminating in gilt bronze sabots. The undulating frieze opens with three drawers. The front features a decorative metalwork pattern highlighting the panels. The corners are adorned with superb bronze mounts depicting female figures in the style of espagnolettes, adding refinement and character to the piece. Beautiful veneer with warm grain,.Contact us