Description

An important and elegant pair of five-light gilt bronze candelabra, richly chased with foliage, scrolls, and rocaille motifs in the Louis XV style. Each piece rests on a wide, shaped, and gadrooned base, ensuring excellent stability. The quality of the casting and the fine chasing attest to beautiful decorative work from the late 19th century, the Napoleon III period. The original gilding is well preserved, displaying a natural and even patina that enhances the charm and authenticity of the whole. A very striking decorative presence, ideal for a mantelpiece, console table, or large reception table.
