Description

A richly ornamented marquetry display cabinet/silverware cabinet with finely chased gilt bronze mounts signed Haentges. The central door features a marquetry medallion depicting an antique scene of ruins and remains, after the painter Hubert Robert. The cabinet comprises two glass-fronted display cases on either side, each with a mirrored back. In the center, there is a drawer, a central door with one shelf inside, and a niche below. The top is made of white marble with gray veining. A very fine piece of French work dating from the late 19th century, around 1880. This piece is in good condition.
