Description

Slant-front secretary desk, Louis XV style, burr walnut veneer - Late 19th century. Very likely a Central European piece from the late 19th century. The front and sides are richly curved and entirely veneered in burr walnut with highly decorative grain, framed by contrasting stringing. The drop-front (22cm when open) reveals a compartmentalized interior with small drawers and compartments, offering a functional workspace. Three drawers in the front with undulating lines complete the piece. Beautiful warm patina, rocaille-style hardware. Functional key and lock. A decorative and practical piece of furniture with harmonious proportions. Very good overall condition, normal signs of wear. Delivery within Metropolitan France EUR140
