Description

Pair of wall sconces designed by Motoko Ishii and produced by Staff Leuchten in the late 1960s. The brackets are made of chromed steel with an architectural design. Each sconce is fitted with four E14 sockets. The bulbs are protected by a screw-in glass globe with a mirrored top, creating a play of reflection and diffusion. The light is both concentric and softened by the partial mirror effect. H 63 cm x W 10 cm (diameter of globes) x D 21 cm. Good condition, with slight superficial oxidation of the chrome (very small black spots, see photos). View this pair of wall sconces by Motoko Ishii for Staff in full screen on Vintage Addict
