Description

Art Nouveau stained glass triptych in grisaille and enamels. French work. Dimensions Height: 218 cm Width: 170 cm Description An exceptional Art Nouveau triptych depicting a young woman at the center of a lush floral composition dominated by lilies. Her flowing draped dress follows the movement of the stems and foliage surrounding her, creating a delicate harmony and an impression of fluidity. Created in grisaille and enamels, with cabochons and acid-etched details, the stained glass subtly captures the light and highlights every detail. The repetition of the lilies accentuates the rhythm and dynamism of the composition, typical of Art Nouveau. The glassmaker's mastery is evident in the subtlety of the colors, the precision of the painted details, and the lead came, which structures the triptych
