Description

This is an antique or vintage graduated amber bead necklace. The beads are a natural, undyed opaque yellow-orange color, often referred to as 'butterscotch' or 'egg yolk' amber. They are graduated oval or barrel-shaped, increasing in size toward the center of the strand. This style is characteristic of genuine Baltic amber pieces, often dating from the Art Deco period, circa 1920s-1930s. The necklace features natural variations in bead size, shape, and color saturation. Item Specifics
