Period : 20th century

Condition : En l'etat

Description

An exceptional early 20th-century seed pearl necklace of refined craftsmanship and substantial quality. Measuring 40cm in length, the necklace is composed of fine seed pearls and features seven evenly spaced flower-petal clusters gracefully arranged along the drape. Each floral motif is set in unmarked yellow gold and designed with four vivid emeralds surrounding a central diamond, creating a striking contrast of color and brilliance. The gemstones are well matched and carefully set, reflecting the high standards of jewelry manufacture from the period.
