Description

Elegant corner cabinet in cherrywood, crafted in the Veneto region during the second half of the 19th century, in the Austro-Venetian period. The piece features a gently curved front with two shaped panelled doors and softly moulded profiles. Its restrained yet refined design reflects the balanced proportions and understated elegance typical of Venetian bourgeois furniture of the time. Interior fitted with a central shelf, suitable for displaying decorative objects or tableware. Tapered front feet. Good overall condition, with a warm, even patina consistent with age. Measurements: height 93.5 cm; maximum front radius 57.5 cm. For further information, photos, or technical details, please feel free to contact us. Worldwide shipping available with professional packaging.
