Description

An exceptional table lamp by the renowned Belgian designer Willy Daro, a leading figure in 1970s mineralist design. This piece perfectly embodies the "Jungle/Hollywood Regency" style characteristic of Daro's creations. It features an imposing slice of natural agate geode, with shades of bluish-gray and crystallized quartz. The stone is majestically mounted on a polished solid brass structure, secured by the designer's signature claws. The base rests on a rectangular, double-pronged stand, offering stability and the elegance typical of high-end lighting from this period. The rectangular lampshade with rounded corners is edged with a gold trim, harmoniously complementing the overall luxurious aesthetic.
