Description

Enamelled porcelain paperweight by Piero Fornasetti, a master of 20th-century Italian design, known for his ability to transform functional objects into artistic creations with a strong graphic character. The object has a cylindrical shape, its upper part embellished with an elegant gold band. The surface is decorated with typographic lettering and small, multicolored illustrations with an ironic and cultured feel, typical of Fornasetti's imagery. Originally an insulator, it is now used as a refined paperweight or decorative desk accessory, thanks to its stability and striking aesthetic. Made in Italy. Excellent condition, with minor signs of aging consistent with the age and nature of the object. Dimensions: H 9 cm, diam.

6.5 cm rif. 173/144
