Description

As I explained in my previous post, I won't dwell on the pharmacist's psyche, you know, the one from the village of Bou, where my wife was born and who... I'm plagiarizing myself. So, we have (it annoys me that the current media expression is: we are on...????) about ten glass ampoules here, still preserved for over 50 years in their original cases. 10% sodium chloride solution in 20cc glass ampoules. Tear drops enclosed in their glass cases... Tear drops that you won't shed while adding to your collection of medical objects.
