1 200 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Sterling silver

Description

Antique brooch forming a sheaf of three wildflowers. The clasp is a double pin. Period: 20th century. Main material: gilt and rose gold silver. Proportions: Length: approximately 9.2 cm, width: approximately 5 cm, thickness: approximately 14 mm. Net weight: approximately 24.6 g. Brooch made by Georges-René Lecomte (1867-1958). Authentic antique jewelry - French work from the early 20th century. Our opinion: Georges René Lecomte was born in Paris and studied with Eugène Lelièvre and Bouvard. He participated in numerous world's fairs and is known for the delicate hand-hammered finish of his silverware.
