

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Wallace Alfred Russel. Contributions To The Theory Of Natural Selection. London Macmillan 1870

2 800 EUR

Signature : Wallace Alfred Russel

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Width : 12,6

Height : 17,9

Description

Description Wallace Alfred Russel (1823 - 1913). Contributions to the Theory of Natural Selection. A series of essays. London, Macmillan and Co. 1870. First edition Contemporary half-leather binding, spine with five raised bands and gilt titles. A naturalist, explorer, geographer, anthropologist, biologist, and illustrator, Wallace is best known for having independently conceived the theory of evolution by natural selection; his essay on the subject was published jointly with some writings of Charles Darwin in 1858. Ex Libris Henry Malthus. Son of Thomas Robert Malthus, an economist, philosopher, Protestant pastor, and English demographer, a forerunner of modern sociology. Dimensions 8° (7,05x4,96in) Provenience Private collection Condition Copy in excellent condition,

Dealer

Coradi Rare Finds

A Selection of Rare and Exclusive Artworks and Antiques

Mobile : 3336571323

Via delle Grazie 19

Brescia 25122

with slightly bumped corners. Imperceptible restoration to the spine. Occasional spots. Pages slightly browned.