Description

Louis Philippe lacquered wardrobe - late 19th century
Elegant lacquered wardrobe dating from the Louis Philippe period, late 19th century. It features clean, well-proportioned lines, classic panelled doors and turned uprights, enhanced by subtle aqua-blue details that highlight its character. The interior includes four shelves and one upper external drawer. The shelves are removable, allowing for the addition of a hanging rail, making the wardrobe adaptable to various storage needs. Ideal as a clothes wardrobe or storage cabinet, it suits classic, shabby chic or eclectic interiors beautifully.
