Description

Venetian Walnut Fratino Table - Late 17th

CenturyDimensions: 236 × 69 × 81

cmDescription:Important Venetian walnut fratino table dating from the late 17th century, characterized by a solid and elegant line typical of noble furnishings of the period. The long rectangular top, of impressive presence, rests on finely moulded lyre-shaped legs, joined by an arched wrought-iron stretcher that provides stability and momentum to the structure. The forms are essential yet harmonious, with balanced proportions that enhance the quality of the wood and its beautiful aged patina, a testament to time. A table of great charm and authenticity, ideal as an important refectory or dining table, or as a striking decorative element in both classical and contemporary interiors.Code: 361Additional Info:
